

Monday 25th January

Dear Year 4 and Parents,

How are you all? Did you have a fun time last week with our musical instruments - making and playing these?

This week, we shall have another home learning music lesson, so look out for the video for Thursday. Our topic this week in the afternoons will be Judaism - RE.

In the Autumn term, we began our learning on this and in the week ahead, we shall learn more about the rules - especially about what can be eaten.

Organising your week: Every family is different when it comes to learning at home. Some children are needing to come to school as key workers' children, some are able to be at home and some children are doing a mixture of both. Due to this, the outline of the lessons looks more structured than it did in last year's lockdown. All of the lessons in English, Maths and Topic build upon each other, so if one is missed out, this means it is difficult to follow the next lesson. Make sure you work from the beginning of the week and progress through the days in order.

If you are working solely from home, then you have the option to organise the lessons and learning in the week to fit around you family and what works for you. This may mean for one week it may be easier to do 2 English lessons on one day and 2 maths lessons on another day with just topic as the extra. However, if you are coming in to school, the set structure showing the tasks on each day is best to follow or you may end up missing learning or repeating an activity.

Well done for those of you who have quizzed on AR. Please remember to quiz on a book as soon as you have finished and please complete the reading practice, literacy skills and vocabulary practice quizzes for each book.

Your login details:

Initial and 1st 4 letters of your surname e.g. ssmit and abc as the password. You all know how to login as we have done this lots together.

I must say I enjoyed seeing you on Friday for our zoom social catch up, but what a shame this did not work so well this time. We will arrange this again for this Wednesday at the same time of 9:45 -perhaps it will work better at this time - who knows. This week, please can you make yourself 3 cards - a red card, a green card and a blue card and have these ready. We will have a quiz online together and you will have a choice of 3 answers - each answer will be a card and you can hold the colour of the card up. We will send the zoom link out to you within the week before Wednesday.

Amelia has shared a couple more jokes with us - hope you like them (shared in the colours and fonts Amelia chose).

Why did the teacher wear sunglasses?

Because her pupils were so bright! 😊

Waiter, waiter! There's a worm on my plate!

That's your sausage, sir. 😊

Bye-bye for now.
