

Wednesday 25th March

Good morning everyone - welcome to Wednesday.

Some little jokes for today:

Q: What sea creatures say hello sixteen times? A: Two octopuses shaking hands.

Q: What do octopus knights wear? A: A coat of arms.

Q: What story do octopus parents read to their kids? A: Octopuss in boots

Today's English -

Please begin writing your recount of your trip to the Aquarium. Talk through what you are going to write about first please as this will help you.

Today I would like you to write the introduction (remember to include the 5 ws - Who? Y3 What? School trip Where? - To National Marine Aquarium. When? - Tuesday 17th March Why? To find out about life in our oceans on our awesome planet.

Write your next paragraph too - this should be about when you left school and arrived at the aquarium (if you have covered everything we did in chronological order on your planning) - if not you may be writing about the first place we visited - Plymouth Sound with the open rock pools.

I have uploaded a cheat sheet of adverbials of time and the toolkit (in case you did not receive this in your new book) to help you with your writing.

Maths

Choice of maths activities: Practical maths or you can complete a worksheet if you would like to - there is no need to do both at all.

- 1) Why not set up a shop at home and make some price labels for the items which you will sell. Could you open your shop to others at home? How much change would you get from a £1 or even £5? To get outside in the sunshine, you could set up a market stall.

OR

- 2) Log onto www.activelearnprimary.co.uk Complete the homework sheet 3_17 - addition or mental. I have uploaded the answers too so you can check these. Have a go at this - again, it doesn't need to be printed off, you could work out the answers in your new homework book. Alternatively, you could use the partitioning method to answer some further Mathematics questions. If this is too tricky for you - do not worry. Throw a dice to get some numbers and add these together.

Topic - please continue with what you started yesterday or choose another activity from the RE topic sheet.

Take care everyone and I'll write to you again tomorrow.
