

Ahoy there me hearties !

I hope everything is still ship shape and your toys are behaving themselves. Make them scrub the decks if not.

Just a little bit of reading today. How many capital letters can you find?

Some races for you to play in phonics today. I have attached some games where you roll a dice and say the word. These games focus on trickier start and finish sounds. You don't need to print them all out. Just play one today and use the other ones on Thursday and Friday. See how quick you can get.

How are the letters to Anne going? Try and finish them today. When it is done, can you read it to a grown up so that you can check it makes sense. Did you forget any words? Did you remember your finger spaces? Keep hold of the letters and when you can get near some water put it in a bottle and send it out to sea. I am sure Anne will be glad to get all of the suggestions.

Today as a warm up, run around counting all the way to 20 in 2's

More weighing today. Can you find one object and put it down. Now can you find three objects that are heavier and three objects that are lighter? you might want to do this a few times. there is a fun game on activelearn too called seaside shuffle for you to play.

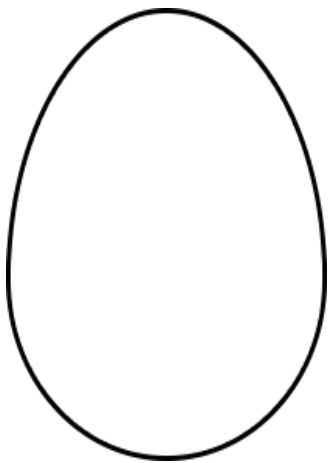

This afternoon can you design your own pirate flag? I wonder what you will have on it to make us know that it is yours. I can guess that there will be unicorns and footballs on some of them!

Keep smiling

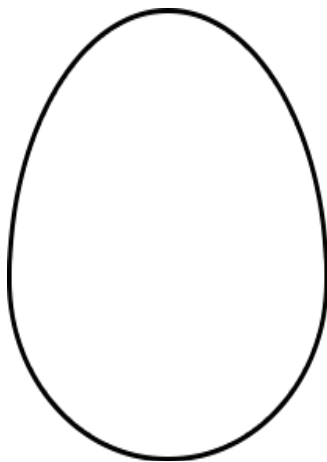

Love Mrs.Oakes
