

Take each of these sections of the film, keeping the meaning the same, and re-write them, using beautifully chosen words to describe what's happening. Remember to use SPAMS (similes, personification, alliteration, metaphors and senses) - See example below:

E.g. The moonlight was bright as he walked through the woods.

to:

As it painted the frozen forest floor with its melancholy glow, the solitary moon lit Joe's path, watching him owl-like eyes.

1. Joe was so frightened; he froze, as he has sat by the log.

2. Suddenly, he looked up and stared at the German boy.

3. After a while, he saw a German boy walking through the woods towards him, wearing a Nazi sign.

4. Joe was panicked as the boy got closer to the dead log that he was hiding behind. Joe felt anxious.

5. He shouted, “Surrender!” but it didn’t make any difference because the German boy pulled out his gun towards Joe!

6. ‘Bang!’ Joe fired the gun towards the boy and he was dead! He lay there like an angel: blue eyes and blonde hair.

7. He was relieved that he shot the boy. He was sweating and his hands shook.

8. Night fell and Joe went to bed trembling. He was so tired.

9. He fell asleep. Peace at last. He woke screaming about the German boy! “No!”

10. He was very sad as he had killed the boy. Tears rolled down his face.
