We could hold Ivan and Helena's wedding in the Great Hall in the palace. Firstly, it is a very beautiful room and will make a wonderful impression on the guests. In fact, it is the most striking room in all the palace. In addition to this, it is perfectly positioned to let in sunlight at this time of day. Moreover, it is large enough to accommodate everyone.

Alternatively, we could hold the wedding in the palace gardens. In contrast, it is a smaller, more intimate venue. However, the garden where the golden apple tree stands would make a very pleasant setting. Furthermore, it is where Ivan's quest to find the firebird began and it was on the quest that he met Princess Helena. Even though bad weather might spoil the occasion, this remains an attractive option due to the beauty of the location and the significance for the couple.
