

Good morning Year 6!

As promised, some extra things to help you!

MATHS - Something to help with your memory poster for the percentages/fractions and decimal facts.

It also contains:

- two videos and
- two interactive activities!

English:

I asked you on Tuesday to think about what you might include in a Tudor newspaper report telling the 'real life' story of local farm workers, land workers etc. being invited to a special Epiphany feast, held by the Duke of Cornwall, to celebrate the beginning of a new year, and to mark the end of the twelve days of Christmas!

Here is something to help and get you writing!

There are three activities linked to this: an on line one and two writing ones. ACTIVITY 3, is where I'd like you to write your newspaper report, based in Tudor times! (This will shortly bring us to the end of our topic!) I will send you a video as soon as I've edited it, to help inspire you to write this!

Also to help, I'd also like you to look at these two links:

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/zmbr47h> , which will help you when drafting and editing. Normally I would be there to help you straight away, but at the moment, that is a bit more difficult! This is a useful little page to help! It has 2 videos and 4 activities to complete. Then, more importantly, use these ideas to help improve your newspaper report!!

And... <https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/zsv6qfr> , which will remind some of you how to use subordinate and relative clauses. These will make your writing sound much more mature and varied! Please do include some! 😊

Ok, Hope you are all ok! Did you like our video on Tuesday? More to come!

Speak soon,

Mr Hill 😊
