

Friday 29th January

I can write a setting description for my sci-fi story.

I would like you to draft, review and edit your first paragraph for your creative writing. If you work in supported groups I would like you to use expanded noun phrases (the still, abandoned craft lay covered in luminescent dust). The rest of you, I would like to see the use of clauses to vary your sentence structure (Slowly rising above the crescent moon, I could see the shadow of bare, neglected trees) or (Setting slowly behind the moon, which was golden, the sun glowed gently). Do not forget to place commas in the appropriate places! I only want you to focus on the setting of your planet, do not introduce characters yet. Think about atmosphere, terrain, weather, senses (I could smell, taste, see, touch). I look forward to hearing some of them at our next zoom session 😊